ICRM 2015

Vienna, Austria | 8-11 June 2015

Welcome to Vienna!

Dear Industry Partners,

the International Committee for Radionuclide Metrology (ICRM) is pleased to announce that its 20th International Conference will take place at the University of Technology in the city centre of Vienna, from 8 – 11 June 2015.

The goal of this international scientific conference is the exchange of information on the development of techniques and applications of radionuclide metrology, and to encourage international co-operation. This biennial conference was recently held in June 2013 in Antwerp, Belgium (ICRM2013).

The conference will include oral and poster presentations and business meetings of the ICRM Working Groups. It is intended to publish selected conference papers after a peer review process in Applied Radiation and Isotopes.

To support the conference participants with current information and product news in the field of radioactivity and ionising radiation measurement an attractive and comprehensive on-site exhibition of companies and organisations will be organised.

Additional activities will be the General Meeting of ICRM members on 12 June 2015 at BEV headquarters, a visit to IAEA headquarters and laboratory facilities and social events. For accompanying persons special cultural and touristic activities will be offered.

We are happy to welcome you at the ICRM 2015 in June 2015!
